"I think she got very emotional while singing The Lord's Prayer. She did a long introduction to the song, ending by saying that her voice is a gift from God and she is very grateful for it. She sang beautifully and hit the high note on the second 'For thine is the kingdom' Solidly. She sang the 'forever' powerfully and held it a pretty long time."

"Then she seemed to have trouble on the 'Amen'. She did not hold it like she normally does. To me, it looked almost as if she was very filled up with emotion."

HAPPY 13TH BIRTHDAY

"Evancho, all of 13, took on songs made famous by the likes of Celine Dion, Barbra Streisand and Christina Aguilera, and she held her own. Evancho is a teenager now, and she refreshingly behaved like one onstage -- well, a composed 13-year-old with a voice beyond her adolescent years."

"To the delight and endearment of the audience, she giggled throughout the evening and repeatedly brushed her shoulder-length curls from her face. When an Elvis tribute artist brought a cake onstage to have the crowd sing "Happy Birthday" before her encore -- or, as she called it, her "thank you" song -- she said afterward, "I was not expecting that. That was actually awesome!"

"When I passed through the lobby before the performance, I was happy to see a goodly number of children and their parents. All the little girls were dressed like Cinderella on her way to the ball."

"There were of course the usual complement of over fifties, but as my friend noted, it was a young crowd compared with the audience the Toronto Symphony Orchestra usually attracts."

"I purchased tickets for my wife and I, for our anniversary. We have seen her on TV and felt that seeing her in person would be a special night. We were not disappointed. We were thoroughly entertained as she is a delightful, innocent and amazing talent."

"Jackie's family sat about 8 rows back from where we sat and it was obvious that Jackie was giving them extra attention. You could tell that she was very happy to have her family there in the audience and it showed. She made it a point to wave to as many audience members as she could between songs during all the many cheers that came her way.

"Jackie poured herself into her songs to give everything she had for the home crowd. She finished to a roaring applause and came out for 3 curtain calls and two encores. Everyone showed their appreciation with roaring applause and standing Os"
